

NEWS RELEASE

SUNDEK announces today that it acquired Bullion Coatings in Houston Texas. Bullion Coatings is one of SUNDEK's largest installation contractors in the country. SUNDEK is looking forward to further build the installation support base and expand their contractor network in the US. In addition, Bullion's commercial relationships, align with SUNDEK's overarching objective to continue growing its commercial opportunities.

"The acquisition is an ideal strategic fit for our growing organization, Dale and Karen Bullion, the founders of Bullion Coatings, have a well-respected reputation in the Houston metro and South Texas area. They've hired and trained some of the best in the industry", said, Tonia Primavera, VP of Marketing & Brand. Bullion Coatings, closely aligns with SUNDEK's overall focus on quality of service, creativity and innovation.

"I've known Dale for over 30 years", said Don Snider, VP of Operations for SUNDEK, "we grew up together working for Charlie Plunk (CEO of SUNDEK), then we each went on to purchase and run our own operations in Houston and Austin respectively. Dale, has one of the strongest work ethics I know and I'm proud that he will remain a part of the SUNDEK family". Dale and Karen are not retiring, they will continue to run their SUNDEK operation in Port Aransas Texas. "I've been a part of the SUNDEK family for 32 years", said Dale "I'm looking forward to being closer to the water, spending more time with my family and winding down a little, but we're definitely not going away, we love what we do, this is an extension of our family."

Bullion resources will allow SUNDEK to scale quicker and branch out in the fast-growing Houston metro market. According to Houston Business Journal, Houston is the 4th fastest growing metro in the country.

"Sundek has been a true pioneer in the industry and has created innovative products, services and an amazing community of customers. 50 years ago, we set a bold company vision-to beautify ugly concrete all over the world. Today, SUNDEK is proud of what we've achieved. Along with our exclusive network of installers across the country, we've built a trusted brand that installs over 38 million square feet of decorative concrete per year", said Mark Stambaugh (Co-founder and President of SUNDEK). "But that's not what SUNDEK is most proud of, our customers all speak about the "SUNDEK family" and the support they receive from SUNDEK's of over 60 operations and locations globally".
